"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread,"
Is now most obsolete and very trite;
Today by every wise man be it said:
That fools put down what angels fear to write.

TWENTY ADDITIONS

To First Baptist Church Revival—
Great Crowds Present At Sunday's Meetings.

Yesterday was a full and great day at the revival which is in progress at the Baptist church. At 10:30 a. m. Rev. Jones addressed the Sunday school, his subject being the "Child of Bread" (Bethlehem). In a very simple and convincing way, he showed so that even a child might easily understand just what Jesus is to every individual.

Again at the regular 11 o'clock service, he preached another powerful sermon to a full house, on the subject of Christ's purpose in coming to the world.

And in answer to a special invitation extended by the evangelist, a magnificent audience greeted him in the general mass meeting at 3 o'clock p. m., when he in a very masterly way, discussed "Eternity, Where?" At this service there were so many present that it was necessary to put chairs in the aisles. Then again, at the 7:30 p. m. meeting, the capacity of the auditorium, Sunday school room and the balcony was taxed to accommodate the crowd assembled to hear Rev. Jones tell of "God's One Plan of Salvation."

The music at all of these services was of a varied nature, quartettes, duets, solos, choir and congregational singing; all beautiful selections, all strictly high-class and greatly enjoyed by all. Prof. Hughes is certainly a fine singer and a proficient leader.

Everybody is invited to attend both of the services at 3 o'clock p. m. and 7:30 p. m. today. We are promised that the music at both of these services shall be as good or better than any we have had. If you like good Gospel preaching and sweet, soul-inspiring music, this is your chance and a royal welcome awaits you.

There have been about 20 additions to the church during this meeting.

The beautiful and handsomely gowned ladies, the wit and repartee of the gentlemen, all combined to make the hour one never to be forgotten.

MODEL CLUBMAN TURNS BANDIT

New York, March 7.—Philip T. White, clubman, "model young business man," and manager of the John W. Munsury Paste Company, of Brooklyn, from which he draws a salary of $8,000 a year, was arrested today as the head of a gang of automobile bandits who recently attempted to hold up and take $9,500 from two employees of a big Brooklyn concern.

With only two precincts out of 24 to be heard from the majority in Knox county in favor of a $200,000 bond issue for road building was 2,540.

FOR CIVIC BETTERMENT

Woman's Club Calls Upon City Officials To Enforce the Curfew Law, the Anti-Cigarette Law, Spitting On the Sidewalks—Sanitation a Vital Subject.

The regular meeting of the Mason County Woman's Club, held Friday afternoon at the club rooms, was one of unusual interest. Several matters of vital importance to the community were brought up for consideration, the result being the adoption of a resolution that the club ask the Mayor, Council and other officers of the city of Maysville to take such measures as may be necessary to enforce the curfew law, the anti-cigarette law for minors and the ordinance against expectorating upon the sidewalks. The Woman's Club offers its co-operation in every possible way towards this end, and urges the public in general to assist in a crusade for the betterment of our city.

Mrs. Abner Hord, president of the club, announced that the Executive Board had decided to create a new department to be known as the Department of Art, Literature and Music, which it is believed will greatly enlarge the scope of the club's activities, and will provide both instruction and entertainment along lines in which Maysville should have a broader development. There will be a called meeting next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the interest of the new department and all members interested in organizing for active work are urged to be present.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Department of Civics, the first speaker being Dr. Austin Quigley, who discussed in a most able manner the question of sanitation in the public schools. Dr. Quigley's vigorous treatment of his subject revealed a thorough and practical understanding of present day conditions in both city and county schools, and his paper contained many helpful suggestions. Mr. Thomas L. Ewan was then introduced to the club, and he presented in a strong and forceful manner the sanitary conditions prevailing in the city of Maysville today with reference to both public and private property. Mr. Ewan's remarks were followed by a general discussion in which methods of street cleaning, disposition of garbage and other sanitary measures were brought up.

Dr. Quigley and Mr. Ewan were tendered a rising vote of thanks for their evidence of interest in the efforts of the club towards civic betterment.

23,268,945 POUNDS

Sold On the Maysville Tobacco Market This Season At $8.25 Average—1,059,610 Pounds Last Week's Sales At $8.30.

This season's total tobacco sales up to last Friday amount to 23,268,945 pounds at a general average of $8.25 per hundred, which brought $1,921,796.75.

Last week's sales were 1,059,610 pounds at $8.30 per hundred.

This week promises to run the total sales up to the 25,000,000 pounds mark. Thus it will be seen what an immense business our loose leaf market is and that with the proper interest and push we can run the total sales up to 30,000,000 pounds per season.

Last week's sales were very satisfactory as to prices, in fact, the best market of the season.

EXPERT FARM DEMONSTRATOR HERE FRIDAY.

Mr. Jeffrey Morgan of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School at Richmond, was in the county and city last Friday visiting County Demonstrator A. M. Casey.

Mr. Morgan is district agent of farm demonstration work and was looking over the Mason county field with Mr. Casey. He informed The Public Ledger that it is hoped and expected that the state will appoint a woman in each county to have charge of the work of organizing girls' canning clubs and to supervise and instruct the women in all the advanced methods of getting the best results from both soil stock and fowls and to teach sanitation and science and thereby improve conditions generally for the country women, who now bear the burden of home drudgery.

FREIGHT WRECK AT FOSTER.

The engine and three cars of a west-bound coal train jumped the track at Foster yesterday morning and delayed No. 8 east-bound passenger train seven hours, and No. 2 east-bound passenger train for two hours. A temporary track was built around the wreck to permit the continuation of traffic until the Huntington and Covington wreck trains arrived and cleared the tracks.

CAUSE OF UNREST.

Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States Commission of industrial relations, made an address last Monday in which he gave the result of the commission's investigations and his deduction from all the testimony, which was the low wages in the cause of the unrest in this country, and consequently the only escape from unrest is, pay better wages, and this was his conclusion from those weeks of investigation. He might have said the same thing before he started on his jaunt.

But where are the wages low? That is what the commission should find out. Is it because of condition of trade, within the power of capital to correct? Or is the condition beyond control? But the investigation sheds no light on this phase of the question. The only appearance of an answer to the question is his onslaught upon wealth, which he thinks should be outlawed. No doubt, the world would like to see wealth more evenly distributed, but there is no way to accomplish this leveling process and make it stick. The commission at least failed to suggest a way.—Ohio State Journal.

WHY DISCRIMINATE?

The bill in the Kansas Legislature to punish women for "creating a false impression," by calomining the face and using other arts does not go 120 pounds who makes up to apparent 150 pounds far enough. For example, there is the woman of and gets away with it until the wind disarranges things. However, the Jayhawker lawmakers should not ignore similar offenses of men. Why not fine the man who essays to cover his "summerhead" by brushing his scanty locks upward from the ears? Why not put a crimp in the man who wears a dyed moustache in the hope of fooling anybody but himself?—Portland Oregonian.

WORK FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature doesn't seem to have very much to do just at present and in order that the members may not suffer from ennui we would suggest that the following bills be introduced as needed legislation in this state:

A bill making Groundhog day a legal holiday.

A bill to widen and deepen the alimentary canal.

A bill providing a state board of examiners of false teeth.

A bill regulating the length of words used in banquet addresses.

A bill providing for a closed season on political job hunting.—Roy K. Moulton.

"MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP" IS SOME HIGH.

In another column will be found an announcement from the City Council that the price of electricity has been raised from 8 to 10 cents per kilowatt. With all due respect to the members of the City Council, the Chronicle will have to take issue with them on this question. Why should the business men and others using electricity be saddled with an additional cost to purchase improvements that benefits the whole town? It is not enough that users of electricity in Augusta are furnishing the are lights to the whole town almost free? Why not tax all alike—on property?—Augusta Chronicle.

BLESSED PEACE NOT FAR OFF.

It is quite obvious now that the European war will last but a few weeks or months longer at best. It has been an uncalculated for horrible hell. We won't say who is responsible for this horror of all the ages, but will leave it to public opinion and the pages of history to place the brand of Cain and wholesale murder, wreck, ruin and rapine upon the brows of those who, drunk with royal conceit and power, deluged lands with an ocean of human blood and brought unending and unspeakable misery to a hundred million widows and orphans

EMMET WILL TRY ANYTHING ONCE.

Emmet Orr, the well known Covington politician, spent yesterday in Louisville and regaled his friends with a lot of new stories for which he is famed. Emmet started out as a "Sweet Owen" Democrat, then switched over to the Republicans, became a Bull Moose, but is now anchored back in the G. O. P. Had it not been for the fact that he unwittingly became the Bull Moose nominee for Congress in the Sixth district last year, he would be in line for a place on the Republican state ticket.—Louisville Times.

"AND POLITICS THE DAMNEDEST IN KENTUCKY."

Rotation in office is certainly the order of the Democrats. Lieutenant Governor McDermott wants to be Governor; Auditor Bosworth is also seeking the Governorship; Treasurer Thomas S. Rhea has announced for Auditor, and a number of other members of the state administration are casting longing eyes on the next step in the ladder. Truly, Kentucky has some unselfish Democrats!

It is not only the fact that the price of bread is going up that grinds, but the thought that in all human probability it will never come down again. There is a ratchet attachment, and though the handle works down as well as up, it operates upward only. In this it differs from a thermometer, and violates the old adage, "All that goes up comes down." One is tempted to imagine an aristocracy of price.—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

It is said that the principal Chicago dailies now exclude patent medicines and "Pastor" Russell's writing from their advertising columns, which shows very clearly that they have a due appreciation of both the health and the morals of their readers.—Exchange.

Now doth the busy candidate,
Ship out his bunch of gratis plate;
But country eds. are wise, by heck!
And fire it back, if minus check.
—Carlisle Mercury.

When it comes to war and a rough house, Woodrow Wilson is a safe man to have at the helm of the ship of state. Who in the helm wants to fight? Not U. S.

Champ Clark praising the work of his own Congress is not only self-praise, but is "bull" right from the Missouri hot-air factory.

The war may go on, but the United States is certainly in no danger, and we're saving money, since Congress has adjourned.

California produced 45,000 carloads of lemons last year and New Orleans acknowledges the receipt of the largest one.

More of the Same.

A young wife recently went into a grocer's shop and addressed the grocer thus:

"I bought three or four hams here a month or so ago, and they were fine. Have you any more of them?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the grocer. "There are ten of those hams hanging up there now."

"Well, if you're sure they're off the same pig, I'll take three of them," replied the young wife meekly.

Useful.

"What kind of work could you possibly do around an office?"

"I'm a kind o' all-around handy man, mister. I kin hold a door open, light a match for ya, look out an' see if it's rainin', call a taxi, drop letters down the chute, an' tell folks yer out when ye ain't."—Life.

Skinner—Good-morning, ma'am. Did you ever see anything so unsettled as the weather has been lately?"

Mrs. Hashley—Well, there's your board-bill, Mr. Skinner.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Hewitt—Do you think long hair makes a man look intellectual?

Jewitt—Not when his wife finds it on his coat; it makes him look foolish.

"CHILDREN AND HEALTH"

Interesting, Timely and Forceful Paper
By Dr. A. R. Quigley Read Before the First District Parent-
Teacher Association.

At the meeting of the First District Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday, the following paper by Dr. A. R. Quigley, was the feature of the afternoon:

If a child presents himself or herself at the school clean and well, he or she should find the environment of the school favorable to the preservation of its health. It has been said, and perhaps truthfully, that most American schools do not, at least at the present, afford much environment. Ideal conditions can only be secured by efficient sanitary oversight of school construction, school furnishings and school administration. When one considers that schools are often the centers of infections, perhaps the most common source for children, it is evident that all communities should establish some form of medical inspection and sanitary supervision as a measure of public hygiene. Such measures, it seems to me, should be in the care of one competent individual instead of a group of individuals; this individual should be paid a just sum for his services, and made responsible for the detection and adjustment of all conditions unfavorable to the health of the school child. Such an inspector should visit the various school buildings at least once a week, in fact, he should be in direct touch with the situation at all times. One yearly inspection, it seems to me, does very little, if any, good, especially if it is left in the hands of men who receive no compensation for the same, and who really have not the time to take from their other manifold duties. The school board seems able to find money for other purposes, why not this? One of the most important departments of school work. It is a question whether compulsory school attendance is justifiable without the protection afforded by such compulsory supervision. It is true school architecture has made great strides in late years, and many modern buildings, both in the city and country, have been erected that are admirably adapted to their purposes, but even in these the hygienic demands of the school have not always received the attention demanded by their importance, while many old school buildings are entirely unsuitable for use, on account of their location, construction, lack of suitable heating and ventilation, and of proper lighting. In all school buildings, even the very best, school management is responsible for important hygienic necessities that often receive scant attention in the over-rush for book knowledge. Over-crowding and improper seating is common, out-houses and toilet rooms are insufficient, unsuitable or uncared for. Methods of school cleaning are inefficient and often even dangerous; drinking cups are used in common; school books, pencils and other appliances used in common are not cleaned nor disinfected; children habitually dirty are not separated from the clean, nor is there provision usually for school baths.

The number of cases of communicable parasitic and skin diseases discovered among school children by medical examiners, makes it desirable that the dirty should be separated from the clean. The services of a public health or school nurse, in following up these cases would be productive of very marked improvement in the condition of personal cleanliness of the individual children. Health talks to mothers under the supervision of educational and health authorities will help greatly. The dangers of dust as a carrier of disease germs make a radical change in the present methods of cleaning school rooms necessary. Janitors and other caretakers must be supervised and trained in the best methods of moist cleaning and dusting. Out-houses and toilet rooms must receive more enlightened attention. The condition of these places in many instances is a menace to health as well as morals. All teachers of children should be instructed in the elements of personal and school hygiene. Their intelligent initiative and co-operation is necessary in all measures for rendering school attendance a healthful experience. The teacher's ideas of ventilation for instance are what eventually determine the condition of the air in the school room, her example in matters of personal cleanliness, neatness and clothing may influence markedly the habits of the children under his or her care. No system of regulation or supervision can be effective without the co-operation of teachers who have intelligent knowledge of the object to be gained.

To further emphasize some of the points gone over: The disposition of mankind, even in these modern days, is to live too little in the open air, and to have practically no regard for proper ventilation of houses, public buildings, etc. This all important factor is little heeded by people in general. If the well individual feels the need of fresh air for comfort and health, how much more necessary is it to those who are not so well. It is said that every well person should have at least 700 cubic feet of air space, and that every one not so well should have at least 1,000 cubic feet. Fresh air should, or at least circulating air, should at all times be allowed in a room occupied by breathing beings, it matters not what the condition of the individual may be, nor what the condition of the elements on the outside. The only care to be specially observed is to prevent draughts on the individual. The fresh air, or circulating air, is always invigorating and never produces a cold.

Room temperature under ordinary circumstances should be about 70 degrees Fahrenheit. It is indeed unfortunate that public officials, especially school officials, do not appreciate the importance of ventilation and are slow to sanction the expense of installing an efficient apparatus. Often the engineer is obliged to put one radiator in a room where two or three would be much better; he is usually obliged to omit air washers and humidifying systems; sometimes is obliged to omit temperature controlling devices; and frequently obliged to use inferior materials, and this all to enable the architect to give the board a building as big as promised, or as big as some other architect promised, or a building as cheaply built as some other supposedly similar building in a neighboring city. Similarly, through the employment of cheap janitors, many good ventilating systems are rendered inefficient. The employment of capable janitors, paid proper wages, will bring about not only the better operation of the building, but a sufficient reduction in fuel costs to more than pay the increased salary. The importance of these things should be impressed on architects, school officials and the public in general. Are we going to invite or compel our children to attend school and then fail to deliver to them what the citizens of this country pay for and have a right to expect? Are we going to strengthen our nation intellectually, physically and morally by improving and increasing our educational facilities and possibilities through the avenue of placing the children of our country in better physical condition.

There are some beautiful school buildings in this country, but there are also some buildings where it is unfit and unsanitary enough to even stable horses and cows. There are school houses without windows, where all the light and ventilation comes through the open door. There are some school houses that do not apparently shock the sensibilities of the health and educational boards, nor those of the parents and other citizens, where children are being blinded (or nearly so) by insufficient and improper light, bad text books and from contagion. In other schools adenoids, enlarged tonsils, deafness, discharging ears and death are being encouraged by bad air and unsanitary conditions. Some schools encourage crooked backs by bad desks and chairs, while others spread contagion by unsanitary water closets, roller towels and the common drinking cup. In many schools children are penned in like cattle with absolutely no means of escape, and could easily be burned to death, if fire attacks the tinder box called a school. It is also the custom to almost invariably build our best building for the high school, and this leaves the younger children to occupy the poorest buildings. As a matter of fact, the best buildings should be given to the very young, for it is during the earliest period of school life that the children's bodies and characters are most susceptible to surrounding influences. According to Allport's latest statistics, there are in this country 20,000,000 school children, or 20 per cent of the entire population. Seventy-five per cent of these children are suffering from some partially or completely remedial defect, which interferes to some extent with the physical, mental and moral advancement. Five hundred thousand have organic heart disease; 1,000,000 have spinal curvature, etc.; 1,000,000 have tuberculosis in some form; 1,000,000 have defective hearing; 5,000,000 have defective vision; 5,000,000 have malnutrition; 6,000,000 have operable tonsils and adenoids; 10,000,000 have defective teeth. All of the above named conditions may not exist in our own immediate community, but many of them do, even so, we would not have to leave our own state of Kentucky to find every one of the conditions present, at least in some part of the state. So, after all, isn't it necessary, even if it does cost us some effort, to try with all our might to overcome at least most of these conditions?

FADS AND FANCIES.

The coiffure is higher than ever. Flowered lawns will make up into dear little afternoon dresses for hot summer afternoons. Mannish coats still have the raglan sleeve. Afternoon dresses are decidedly simple. Very smart is a sailor shaped hat of white satin, faced with white straw and trimmed simply with a band of white grosgrain ribbon around the crown, ending in a long tailored bow on the left side.

DON'T YOU THINK SO?

The man who is clean in mind, neat in person, who looks not up to the rich or down on the poor, who can lose without squealing and win without bragging, who is considerate of women, children and old people, who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat and too energetic to loaf, who takes his share of the world's goods and lets his neighbor have his share, who takes The Public Ledger is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. Now, don't you think so?

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Maysville People Have Found This to Be True.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys?

Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness.

Weakened kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys.

Grateful people recommend them.

A. Sorries, locksmith, Aberdeen, O., says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backache and when stooping, it was hard for me to straighten. Colds always settled on my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the trouble and my kidneys became strong."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Sorries is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Sorries had. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co. BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

Says Developments Indicate Improvement Will Be Gradual

Bradstreet's Trade Report of Cincinnati, O., for the week ending March 5, says:

"The week's developments reflect trade in some lines on the up grade. Buying for immediate needs continues to dominate, thus indicating conservatism, which gives rise to the impression that improvement will be gradual."

Dun's Agency.

R. G. Dun & Company's weekly trade review for Cincinnati says:

General business conditions show slow but steady improvement, and in some lines it may be said to amount to progress.

CHARTER FILED

For the New Organization of Burley Tobacco Growers.

Lexington—Articles incorporating the recently organized Tobacco Growers' Association, the purpose of which is to "enable the growers of tobacco to be mutually helpful to each other in growing and marketing their products and to act as agent of growers in warehousing and selling their tobacco," signed by 22 representative growers of the burley belt, were filed in County Clerk Theo Lewis' office. The amount of indebtedness that may be incurred is limited at $1,000,000, and there is no capital stock, the organization having been formed for mutual protection and not profit. Other purposes of the Tobacco Growers' Association are to secure money to be advanced to the growers on their tobacco before it is ready for or while it is being held for market; to disseminate information among growers as to the best methods of serving their lands, growing, housing, stripping and preparing their crops for market. The business of the Tobacco Growers' Association is to be conducted by a board composed of nine directors.

SIX MILLIONS

To Be Spent On Road Improvement In Kentucky This Year.

Frankfort.—Fully $2,500,000 more than has ever been spent for road building in Kentucky will be contributed by the state, and this amount will be duplicated by the counties, making a total of $4,000,000 from this source. There has been voted in bond issues nearly $1,000,000 in the various counties, bringing the total up to $2,500,000. This sum will be spent in addition to the $4,000,000 used annually for road purposes.

Sixteen counties—Wolfe, Pike, Perry, Owsley, Morgan, Metcalfe, Magoffin, Lee, Jackson, Henderson, Harlan, Green, Floyd, Cumberland, Crittenden and Breathitt—did not apply for state aid.

STRANGE WARTIME HAPPENINGS

Strange things are occurring in the frightful war now being waged in Europe. Here's an item from an exchange that gives an insight to some of the strange happenings of great war struggles: "Quartermaster Sergeant Kerr, of the Thirty-second Battery, Royal Field Artillery, who was mentioned in a recent dispatch from Sir John French, had a unique experience in the South African war. He was officially reported killed, and the insurance money was paid over. When he returned home at Littlehampton he found a tablet erected to his memory."

CHARGED WITH BIG FRAUDS.

Baltimore, Md., March 8.—The case of Walter and Emory Kirwan, formerly prominent in business circles in Baltimore, came up in the Criminal Court today for trial. The Kirwans are charged with conspiracy to defraud the First National Bank out of about $70,000, by means of alleged bogus bills of lading. This will be the second trial of the case. The first trial was ended abruptly by the serious illness of one of the jurors.

HEARING ON OSAGE OIL LAND.

Washington, March 8.—Secretary Lane of the Interior Department today conducted a public hearing with a view to settling the conflicting claims arising out of the proposal to lease for another term the oil lands of the Osage Indians in Oklahoma. The case involves the largest single oil property in the world, some 800,000 acres, it is said. The present lease on the lands is about to expire.

WILSON KEEPS OPEN HOUSE.

Washington.—President Wilson kept "open house" at the White House Friday night for departing members of the Senate and House. He received callers at the executive offices up to 10 o'clock.

Stronger by weakness, wiser, men became, As they draw near to their eternal home; Leaving the old, both worlds at once they view, That stand upon the threshold of the new.

—Wallace.

PRECISE USE OF WORDS.

Precise use of language has a moral as well as a scholastic value. A newspaper which lately referred to the death of a "once famous bank defaulter" did violence to the moral nature of every young man who read the phrase. No defaulter is famous; no burglar is truly great and no counterfeiter is properly described by the adjectives used in characterizing honest men. Fame, according to a proper use of the word, is the result of meritorious success. A defaulter is infamous, and in order to prevent misapprehension as to the quality of his deeds, he should be so described.

Brooklyn established its first municipal school farm last spring and it proved so successful that others will be asked next season. Plots were farmed twice by different lots of children and nature study and domestic science were linked with scientific truck gardening.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Turkey.
British battleships using 15-inch guns, headed by the Queen Elizabeth, are bombarding the principal inner forts of the Dardanelles straits. Two of the forts have been damaged, and the magazine of a third has been blown up. The fortification of Smyrna were seriously damaged.

Germany.
Conditions in Italy are being seriously considered in Germany, and public opinion is reported as favoring a more conciliatory policy by Austria, including possibly the ceding of the Province of Trent. The government has requested Ambassador Morgenthau to take charge of its interests at Constantinople in case the Turkish officials leave the capital.

Russia.
Having countered the Austro-German attempts to outflank him in eastern Galicia, the Russian commander is thrusting again at the German center in Poland. The Austrians are reported to be in full retreat toward the Carpathians.

United States.
President Wilson has under consideration, it is stated, a note of inquiry to Great Britain and France asking how the embargo on all commercial intercourse with Germany and neutral countries is to be carried out.

3,000,000 Is Reported Loss By Germany Since War Began.

Paris, March 6.—An official note issued by the French press bureau declares that the German losses since the beginning of hostilities, in killed, wounded, sick and prisoners, reaches the enormous total of 3,000,000 men. This calculation is based on the known casualties in ten German regiments.

OHIO FLOOD SURVEY

Soon Will Be Begun By Engineers—Work May Cost $80,000.

Washington.—Preliminary work in the Ohio flood survey is to be begun within the next few weeks. The Board of Army Engineers will not complete the apportionment of the $30,000,000 appropriated by Congress for river and harbor improvements in less than two or three weeks and no project to be paid for from such funds will be initiated until after the apportionment has been finished.

The Secretary of War, in addressing Congress on the subject of the Ohio flood survey, estimated that it would cost $80,000. Whatever the expense may be, it will be taken from the Ohio river apportionment.

There is about $60,000,000 available for river and harbor work. Provided Congress passes a bill next session by March 4, improvements can be carried forward at the rate of about $5,000,000 a month during the coming year. This is actually more than the Engineer Corps has been in the habit of spending.

FORMAL OPENING

CHURCH NOTES

The attendance for the various Sunday schools for Sunday, March 7, was as follows:

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather yesterday the average Sunday school attendance was good. One reason for this can be attributed to the fact that the churches are reaping the benefits of the revival efforts which have been put forth during the past few months.

Last night at the Christian church, Pastor Stahl preached to a good-sized audience on the theme, "Is There a Personal Devil?" At the close of the service there was one addition to the church.
